14th April 2025

As we mark the Sinhala and Tamil New Year, I extend my warmest greetings to all citizens living in Sri Lanka and around the world.

This season of renewal, celebrated by diverse communities, reflects the spirit of unity, coexistence, and shared cultural values. Though rooted in distinct traditions, the New Year is observed together in harmony, demonstrating the strength of our pluralistic society.

At a time when the global community faces increasing division and uncertainty, this spirit of peaceful coexistence sends a timely and powerful message. It reminds us of the enduring importance of dialogue, mutual respect, and solidarity, both within nations and among them.

Our government remains committed to strengthening engagement with the international community, supporting the rights and dignity of our overseas citizens, and promoting Sri Lanka as a destination of peace, hospitality, and cultural richness.

May this New Year bring renewed hope, prosperity, and understanding to all.

සුඛ නව වසරක් වේවා!
